Note.—THE proportional Value of the Trade carried on with each Country, during the Year ended 5th January 1824, cannot at present be stated; it being ascertained by individually applying the Official Rates to the numerous Articles of Import and Export, of which the trade may in each case consist; an operation of such extent and labour, as unavoidably to occupy a period of several months after the termination of the Year. The Accounts of this Department are, however, so arranged, as to afford a ready means of ascertaining the Aggregate Amount of the National Commerce; and an Abstract is accordingly submitted, showing the Total Official Value of the Imports and Exports to and from all Parts of the World, for the Year ended 5th January 1824, as the best Return which it is practicable to furnish at the present time.

Note:—THE Excesses in the first three, and 7th and 8th Cases, were charged by the Officers without regard to the Deficiencies in other Operations, and it was therefore directed by Treasury Warrant, dated 23d February 1822, that the Duty should not be required, on the ground that the latter were equal to, or exceeded the former. The Payments actually made in the 4th Case, were at the rate of 7s. 11 ½d.; and in the 5th and 9th Cases, at 7s. 11 ¾d. per gallon, being the Duty on Spirits from Sugar Wash; and where the Wash was from Corn (as in Case 6th) at the rate of 5s. per gallon, being the then Fine, in lieu of Duty for Surpluses.

There was no Excess charged at the rate of 9s. 2½d. per gallon for the above periods.

CIRCULAR TO SURVEYORS.

SIR,

Office for Taxes, 2d August 1823.

ON consideration of the probable alterations which the Act of 4 Geo. IV. c. 11, will produce in the number of Windows, and the rent or value of Houses chargeable to the Assessed Taxes, the Board are pleased to direct that a General Survey of Houses and Windows be made by each Surveyor throughout his District, to be commenced in the present year, and to be completed in the present or the ensuing year at furthest, according to the extent of the District, or other engagements of the Surveyor in the duties of his office. As the Board will be able to judge from the accounts, and other means of information, to what extent the exertions of each Surveyor will have been made, they trust that they shall receive full evidence of your assiduity; and I have further to state, that as a reward to the Surveyors for the trouble and expense attending the survey, the Board will recommend to the Lords of the Treasury, that a per centage be granted on the increase made by them to the House and Window Duties for this and the following year.

You will understand that these directions apply to Houses, in respect of which the occupiers may compound under the Act 4 Geo. IV. c. 45, on the assessment of the present year, if the survey takes place in this year, but do not extend to Houses and Windows which have been already compounded for under the former Acts, and in which the parties compounding still reside.

Those Surveyors who do not complete the survey of the whole of their Districts this year, will transmit a particular statement, showing the parts of the District in which they have made the survey, with an explanation of the reasons for not completing the whole.

(signed) R. Groom,

Under Secretary of Assessed Taxes.

Copy TREASURY MINUTE, dated 10th December 1823.

THE Chancellor of the Exchequer states to the Board, that he has received a communication from the Chairman of the Board of Taxes, upon the subject of the assessment of the House Duty in England and Wales, from which it appears, that that Board had judged it necessary to call the attention of their officers generally throughout the kingdom to this subject, with a view to ascertain the real value of every House liable to the Duty, in consequence of representations made to them of irregularity in the mode of charging that Duty, some Houses being charged at their full value, while others are rated in various proportions very much below it; and he submits to the Board that it would be desirable that the General Survey commenced by order of the Board of Taxes, should be proceeded in with as little delay as possible, but that that Board should be restrained from enforcing any increased charges on account of any under assessment during any former period, or from increasing the assessment upon any House in consequence of that survey, without bringing the whole subject before their Lordships as soon as the survey shall be completed, and receiving their commands thereupon.

My

My Lords are pleased to approve thereof, and they direct a letter to be written to the Commissioners of Taxes accordingly.

Letter written to the Commissioners of Taxes in the terms of the above Minute on the 10th December accordingly.

Copy of a Letter to the Commissioners of Taxes, dated 30th December 1823.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM commanded by the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, to desire you will give the necessary directions to your officers, and cause public notice to be given that the increased charges made on the late General Survey to the inhabited House Duty, on the ground of houses having been hitherto undervalued, will be suspended until further notice, and that it will therefore be unnecessary for the parties upon whom increased charges have been made upon such ground, to attend the Commissioners on the days fixed for hearing appeals against such increased charges.

I am, Gentlemen,

N° 1.—Middlesex, Holborn Division.

AT a Meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, holden at the office, N° 24, Red-lion-square, the 4th day of September 1823; John Dyer, of N° 38, Red-lion-street, in the parish of Saint Andrew Holborn, appealed against an assessment made on him pursuant to 48 G. 3. c. 55, schedule (A.) for 23 windows in respect of his dwelling-house.

48 G. 3. c. 55,
sch. (A.)
rule 12,
p. 19 $\frac{1}{2}$.

It appeared on the examination of the appellant, that such assessment included 2 windows on the ground story and in front of his house, and he claimed to be relieved therefrom under the 4 G. 4. c. 11. s. 1, which grants exemption to "so much of the duties on windows or lights in shops or warehouses, being parts of dwelling-houses, in respect of any number, not exceeding 3 such windows or lights in any shop or warehouse, in the front or fronts, and on the ground or basement story of every dwelling-house, occupied by any person or persons in trade, who shall expose to sale or sell any goods, wares or merchandizes in any such shop or warehouse."

The appellant stated on oath that he was a licensed victualler, in the habit of exposing samples of liquors for sale in his shop windows, (in which shop liquors are stored and sold,) and of serving his customers with porter, ale, &c. as a publican; and the commissioners, considering his public room as a shop or warehouse within the meaning of such last mentioned section, relieved the appellant in respect of 2 windows in such shop or public room; but the surveyor for the crown referred to the 12th rule of the first mentioned act for charging windows or lights, wherein he contended a distinction is taken between shops, workshops and warehouses, and the public rooms of houses licensed to sell wines or other liquors by retail, and considered therefore that the windows in a public house are not as such exempted by the said act of 4 G. 4; and not being satisfied with the determination of the commissioners, demanded a case, which we have accordingly stated for the opinion of His Majesty's judges. Dated this 20th day of September 1823.

N° 2.—District of Birmingham, in the county of Warwick.

AT a meeting of the commissioners for hearing and determining appeals against the first assessments, held this 16th September 1823; Thomas Sharman, of Aston Manor, victualler, appealed against the assessment made on him in respect of 2 windows in his dwelling-house.

4 G. 4. c. 11.
s. 1.

It appeared on examination of the appellant that he was a licensed victualler, and that the windows referred to were each in a parlour in the front of the house, in which his customers took such refreshment as they required, including ale, wine, spirituous liquors and eatables, which he contended entitled him to the exemption allowed by the 1st section of the 4 G. 4. c. 11, which appeal the commissioners allowed; but the surveyor being dissatisfied therewith, requested a case might be stated for the opinion of the judges.

Appeals were also allowed on the part of the following persons, for the reasons stated and objected to by the surveyor, on which the decision of the judges is also requested.

Thomas Taft, of Bell-street, Birmingham, victualler, for 2 windows in a front parlour.

William Cartwright, of Bordesley, victualler, for 2 windows in the kitchen, and 1 in the front parlour.

John

John Dawson, of Hill-street, Birmingham, victualler, for 1 window in the kitchen, and 1 in the parlour in front.

Robert Johnson, of Hill-street, Birmingham, victualler, 2 windows in the kitchen, and 1 in the door.

James Stewart, of Warstone-lane, Birmingham, victualler, 1 window in a parlour in front.

J. Hackney, Snow-hill, Birmingham, victualler, 1 window in the bar, and 1 in the parlour in front.

S. Adams, Steelhouse-lane, Birmingham, victualler, 1 window in the bar.

James Fortescue, High-street, Birmingham, victualler, 3 windows in the shop.

Ditto - - Edgbaston-street, 3 windows in the shop.

Mr. Fortescue's are gin shops, and although obliged to take out the usual licences as a victualler, yet his shops are strictly retail shops for the sale of spirits, &c. the same as a grocer or any other tradesman, wherein the goods are exposed for sale, with engines for drawing the liquors, and counters on which the money is paid.

In the cases of Hackney and Adams, an engine is admitted to be fixed on the bar for drawing beer.

The objections by the surveyor to the relief granted are,

- 1st. That licensed victuallers (as such) are not subject to the bankrupt laws ;
- 2d. That in the case of a victualler, there is no such exposure as contemplated by the act ;
- 3d. That if such be not the fact, then that at least the mere use of the parlours to eat and drink in, cannot be considered as a shop for exposing goods to sale, and that the parlour windows should remain assessed.

The commissioners allowed the appeals, on the ground that the articles in which the appellants dealt were sold in the rooms for which the exemptions were claimed, and that the words of the act are, " shall expose to sale or sell : " That by several acts of Parliament licensed victuallers must openly exhibit a board, stating themselves to be dealers in liquors and tobacco ; and that the clerk to the commissioners stated, on his own knowledge, that such licensed victuallers were subject to the shop tax whilst that tax was in existence.

AT an adjourned meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, for the town of Monmouth, for hearing appeals against the assessments for the current year, held in the jury room in the said town of Monmouth, the 24th of September 1823; James Jones, a publican in the said town of Monmouth, claimed to be exempt from the window tax for his tap-room, under the act of 4 G. 4. c. 11. s. 1.

Mr. Monkhouse, the surveyor, contended that the provision of the act 4 G. 4. c. 11. s. 1. did not extend to any windows of public houses.

4 G. 4. c. 11.

The commissioners allowed the claim; whereupon Mr. Monkhouse, being dissatisfied, requested a case might be submitted for the opinion of the right honourable the judges of the courts of Westminster, which we, the commissioners, do accordingly grant and state as above.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, acting for the said division, holden at the Session House, on Clerkenwell Green, the 3d day of Sept. 1823; Thomas Spring, of the City Road, in the parish of Saint Luke, publican, appealed against an assessment made on him pursuant to 48 G. 3. c. 55. schedule (A.) for 18 windows in respect of his dwelling-house.

It appeared on the examination of the appellant, that such assessment included 3 windows on the ground or basement story, and in front of his house; and he claimed to be relieved therefrom under 4 G. 4. c. 11. s. 1. which grants exemption to "so much of the duties on windows or lights in shops or warehouses, being parts of dwelling-houses chargeable by the said first mentioned act (48 G. 3. c. 55.) in respect of any number not exceeding three such windows or lights in any shop or warehouse, in the front or fronts, and on the ground or basement story of every dwelling-house, occupied by any person or persons in trade, who shall expose to sale or sell any goods, wares or merchandize in any such shop or warehouse."

The appellant stated on oath, that he was a licensed victualler, in the habit of exposing liquors for sale in his windows, and of serving his customers with bread and cheese, and tobacco, and other articles in the way of his business as a publican; and the commissioners, considering his public room as a shop or warehouse within the meaning of such last mentioned section, relieved the appellant in respect of 3 windows in such room; but the surveyor for the crown referred to the 12th rule of the said act of 48 G. 3. c. 55. schedule (A.) for charging windows or lights, wherein he contended a distinction is taken between shops, workshops and warehouses, and the public rooms of houses licensed to sell wine or other liquors by retail, and considered therefore that the windows in a public-house are not, as such, exempted by the said act of 4 G. 4; and not being satisfied with the determination of the commissioners demanded a case, which we have accordingly stated for the opinion of His Majesty's judges.

AT an adjourned meeting of the commissioners of Land and Assessed Taxes, acting for the hundred of Ely and South Witchford in the said Isle, holden at the White Hart Inn in Ely, on Friday the 3d day of October 1823, for the purpose of hearing appeals; Mr. Henry Rance, of the parish of the Holy Trinity in Ely, in the Isle of Ely, innkeeper, claimed to be exonerated from the charge on 3 windows on the ground floor, and in the front part of his dwelling-house, under the act of 4 Geo. 4. c. 11, as being the windows to rooms in which he sells ale, wine, and spirituous liquors; but we the commissioners being of opinion, that the appellant was not entitled to such exemption, confirmed the charge. The appellant being dissatisfied with our determination, thereupon demanded a case for the opinion of the judges, which we have granted accordingly.

Messrs. John Barnard, Samuel Myrton, John Anderson, Edward Ingram, William Beecroft, William Gray, Ann Spenceley and others, publicans and victuallers in the said parish of Ely Trinity and adjoining parishes, also appealed under similar circumstances for the like relief, but whose cases were also confirmed by us, subject to the opinion of the judges on the case of Mr. Henry Rance, as above stated.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, held at Buckland Brewer, in the said division and county, on the 1st day of October 1823, by adjournment from the 3d day of September last, for hearing appeals against the first assessments for the year 1823; William Phillips appealed against the original assessment upon him for the year 1823, ending 5th April 1824, for 20 windows upon which he had compounded.

The appellant is an innkeeper residing in the town of Bideford, and claims exemption under the 4 G. 4. c. 11. s. 1. for 3 windows, 1 being in the bar where spirits and other goods are exposed to sale, and the other 2 in rooms appropriated for the entertainment of guests, in which goods are sold, and all the windows being in the front and on the basement story. The appellant contends that the act of Parliament above alluded to extends to his case, inasmuch as the several rooms, the windows of which he claims exemption for, are used for the purpose of exposing to sale or selling goods, &c. and that it would be manifestly unjust that they who pay a heavy duty to Government for their licences to the Excise, according to the value of their houses, should not have the benefit provided by the act extended to them, when several spirit merchants and other tradesmen in the same town are relieved.

We, the undersigned commissioners, having heard the above appeal, and conceiving the appellant not entitled to the relief claimed, have confirmed the original assessment; but he being dissatisfied with our decision, we have at his request specially stated the above case for the opinion of His Majesty's judges. AT a meeting of the commissioners of the Assessed Taxes, acting for the hundred of Gore, in the said county, held at the Crane Inn, at Edgware, on Wednesday the 9th day of April 1823;—

Present:—Joseph Finch, esq.; John Nicoll, esq.; the rev. A. R. Chauvel; Wm. Martin, esq.; Wm. Nurse, esq.; Wm. Boyd, esq.

Mr. John Archer appealed against a surcharge of 6*l.* 10*s.* for a two-wheeled carriage, and stated that he was carrying on the business of a victualler, at the King's Head, Harrow-on-the-Hill, having a very extensive connection in and about London; has since he has kept the said house done, and is still continuing to do, a very large trade in the wine and spirit line; and for the purpose of such trade, has been compelled to keep a cart, which has been solely used in his aforesaid trade or business, and in no one instance used for the purpose of pleasure, or ever used upon Sundays.

52 G. 3. c. 93,
sch. (D.)
N° 2, p. 354.
Exemptions,
p. 363.

Such cart was built by a common country wheeler, with iron springs, and cost 12*l.* (as the goods wherein Mr. Archer deals cannot be conveyed in a cart without,) and hath a tail board, which lets down behind, is numbered 146,225, and has always had Mr. Archer's name and address, and "wine machine," painted thereon.

That the cart is capable of holding wine hampers and other large packages; and that he has been invariably refused passing through Hyde Park, the King's Private Road, or the Duke of Bedford's private gate leading to Burton Crescent, New Road, with this cart; that at all times upon going into the city of London with any goods in his said cart, he has been compelled to pay the city toll for a common stage cart, and that upon all the turnpike roads he pays the toll for a cart and not as for a chaise.

The surveyor for the crown in support of his surcharge contended, that in his view of the carriage (a cart as it is termed by Mr. Archer,) it is clearly liable to the duty of a two-wheeled carriage, painted dark brown and varnished, and on metallic springs, and with a swing seat. Mr. Archer also admitted, that he rode constantly in this carriage (or cart) in going to and from London, or elsewhere, to fetch and carry goods; and although the carriage (or cart) is capable of holding wine hampers, &c. it does not take from its liability to the two-wheel carriage duty.

Mr. Archer brought such cart over to Edgware for the inspection of the commissioners there sitting, who inspected the same, and were inclined to think it was not liable to any duty, being a common stage cart; but after having heard read a case of Thomas Wilson, of Barnet, in the county of Hertford, and the opinion of the judges thereon, which the commissioners thought assimilated to this (although there was in part a difference in the circumstances,) they confirmed the surcharge of 6*l.* 10*s.* as for a two-wheel carriage, but at the same time told Mr. Archer, if dissatisfied, he could demand a case for the opinion of the judges, which he prays accordingly.

AT a meeting of the commissioners for putting into execution the acts of Parliament relating to the duties of Assessed Taxes for the county of Rutland, held at the Crown Inn, Oakham, on Saturday the 25th day of January 1823, for the purpose of hearing and determining appeals against the charges made under the said acts by Mr. Robert Thompson, surveyor of taxes for the county aforesaid; Messrs. Fisher & Son, of Exton, in the said county, livery stable keepers and trainers of race horses, appealed against a further charge of 4 male servants at 2*l.* each, made upon them by the said surveyor under the act 52 G. 3. c. 93. sch. (C.) N° 3. The circumstances of the case as they appeared to us on appeal are as follows:—For a few months in the year the appellants hired 4 lads of the village, all under the age of 15 years, to take care of race horses belonging to different persons, placed under their management for the purpose of training. These lads were wholly maintained and lodged in their house. The appellants claimed exemption for these 4 lads under the act 59 G. 3. c. 118. s. 2. The surveyor on his part contended that this exemption did not extend to such servants, which he considered not to come fairly within the meaning of the words, “groom, stable boy, or helper in stables,” as these words are used in the various acts of Parliament relating to the assessed taxes; and that the schedule first referred to, by which servants of the description employed by the appellants are charged with a lower duty of 2*l.* each, makes a distinction between them and those servants, which it appears the object of the alleviating act before mentioned to exempt, by excluding the latter by name from that lower rate of duty.

We, the said commissioners, after having heard and duly considered the circumstances of the case, relieved the appellants from the further charge, thereby confirming to them the exemption claimed under the said act; but the surveyor being dissatisfied with our determination, requested a special case might be drawn up for the opinion of His Majesty's judges, which we have granted accordingly.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, held the 23d day of September 1823, for the purpose of hearing appeals; Thomas Fowler, of the parish of Daventry, appealed against a charge made on him by the assessor for the before mentioned parish, for 1 riding horse, at 1 l. 8*s.* 9*d.* when he stated that he is by trade a butcher, and occasionally rides his horse in the course of his trade, and occupies a farm, the rent of which is 28*l.* a year; and that by the occupation of the land and trade jointly, he earns his livelihood. The appellant claims to be exempt from duty for the horse in consequence of the rent of his farm being under 50*l.* per annum.

John Brownwich, of the said parish, also appealed against a charge for 1 riding horse, and his case is similar to the before mentioned one, except he only occupies 2 acres of land.

We, the commissioners, being of an opinion that the appellants are not liable to the duty, relieved them from the charge; but Mr. Davis, the surveyor, being dissatisfied with our determination, demanded a case for the opinion of the judges, which we hereby state accordingly. N^o 11.—Hundred of Shebbear North, in the County of Devon.

WE, two of the commissioners acting in the execution of the acts in relation to Assessed Taxes for the hundred of Shebbear North, in the county of Devon, beg leave, at the instance and request of the under-named Mary Ann Saltren, to state the following case for the opinion of His Majesty's judges; Mary Ann Saltren, of Monkleigh, spinster, was assessed in the year 1817 for 22 windows, and 1*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* inhabited house duty for her dwelling-house in Monkleigh. In the year 1818, the windows were reduced to 7, and the inhabited house duty entirely discharged on appeal, in consequence of part of the house having been pulled down, Miss Saltren residing in the remainder.

In the year 1819 she compounded upon the 7 windows without any inhabited house duty, and has since made a considerable addition to the said house, and there are now a greater number of windows in it than there were at the time she so compounded. A ground plan of the house as it now stands is annexed hereto, showing the old from the new part. Miss Saltren has given notice to renew her former composition under the 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 113, and the surveyor of the district has objected thereto. But Miss Saltren contends that no legal objection can be made to the renewal of her composition, inasmuch as any increase which has taken place in the number of her windows, is the very benefit held out by the act to induce persons to compound, and the very circumstance contemplated by them in so doing, otherwise what possible advantage could accrue to the parties therefrom.

The Board of Taxes, to whom the question has been referred, were of opinion upon the case first stated to them, and which was prepared by the clerk to the commissioners, (a copy whereof is hereunto annexed marked (A),) that Miss Saltren could not renew her former composition; and the whole of the commissioners present, when the matter came on to be heard, being five in number, accordingly decided that her contract should not be renewed. But Miss Saltren being dissatisfied with the decision, directed her agent to prepare and send up a statement of the facts relating to her case for the opinion of the Board, to which they replied, that if the premises alluded to had not, for the purpose of rebuilding or enlarging, been entirely pulled down since the former composition was entered into (so as to constitute a case of removal, which the 7th section of the act 59 G. 3. c. 51. provides for,) they, on reconsideration, had considerable doubts as to whether any legal objection could be made to the renewal thereof by Miss Saltren. [A copy of Miss Saltren's statement, with the opinion of the Board thereon, is also hereunto annexed, marked (B).] Soon after Miss Saltren was made acquainted with the Board's second opinion, she again applied to the commissioners for a renewal of her contract; but the whole of them which were present at the rehearing of the case, being five in number, were still of opinion that Miss Saltren should not be allowed to renew her contract, and they also declined to state a case for the opinion of His Majesty's judges. But we, the two undersigned commissioners, (neither of us having been present at the second meeting of the commissioners before mentioned, held for the purpose of hearing Miss Saltren's case,) considering that Miss Saltren is entitled to a case, have at her request stated as above.

MARY Ann Saltren, of Monkleigh, was assessed in the year 1817, for a dwelling-house consisting of 22 windows. In the year 1818 the windows were reduced to 7 in consequence of part of the dwelling-house being pulled down, she residing in the remainder. In the year 1819 she compounded upon the 7 windows; since that time the house has been rebuilt, partly upon the old site and partly upon other ground, and has now a greater number of windows than originally compounded upon; she has given due notice to renew her composition, may she be allowed to do so?

(Answer.)

Office for Taxes, 14th June 1822.

THE pulling down a house for the purpose of rebuilding it, the Board consider in the light of a removal, and as vacating the existing composition thereon on the 5th day of April next after such pulling down; consequently, if such is the case in the present instance, the Board are of opinion the party referred to cannot renew her former composition, although she may compound de novo on the increased number of windows, under the 13th section of 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 113; but in case she should not so compound, you must bring her into assessment in the current year, as if no former composition had been entered into.

Sirs,

Office for Taxes, 23d Nov. 1822.

I HAVE laid before the Board your letter of the 29th ultimo, requesting their opinion on the following case; viz.

Miss Mary Ann Saltren compounded under the act 59 G. 3. c. 51. for the assessed taxes (amounting to 1*l.*) on her dwelling-house, being for 7 windows, which were all then in the house. The house has since been enlarged, and there are now a greater number of windows in it. Miss Saltren has given notice of her desire to renew her former composition under the act 1 & 2 G. 4, c. 113, and the surveyor of the district has objected thereto; but she contends that no legal objection can be made to such renewal, as any increase which has taken place in the number of her windows is the very benefit contemplated by her in compounding.

And I am directed to acquaint you, that the Board have already given their opinion on this case, which corresponded with that given by the commissioners of the district; but it has since occurred to the Board, that if the premises alluded to have not for the purpose of rebuilding or enlarging been entirely pulled down since the former composition was entered into, (so as to constitute a case of removal, which the 7th section of the act 59 G. 3. c. 51. provides for,) they, on reconsideration, have considerable doubts as to whether any legal objection can be made to the renewal thereof by Miss Saltren.

I am, sirs, your most obedient servant,

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, for hearing appeals for the Birmingham Division of the hundred of Hemlingford, for the year ended 5th April 1822; Messrs. Spurrier & Ingelby, of Birmingham, attornies, appealed against the charge made on them to the duties of windows and houses in the parish of Birmingham.

It was admitted on appeal, that the house was wholly occupied by the appellants as offices only, for the purposes of their profession as attornies, that no one dwelt, ate, or slept therein, and that the appellants were respectively assessed to the duties on houses and windows for their respective dwelling-houses, and therefore claimed to be relieved from the charge on their offices.

The surveyor objected to the relief, on the ground that the house occupied by the appellant as offices, had formerly been occupied as a dwelling-house, and was not occupied for the purposes of trade, either wholly or in part, and that he did not come within the exemptions of the act 57 G. 3. s. 1. c. 25. p. 430.

The commissioners, on the ground that the persons occupying the premises not being subject to the bankrupt laws, the premises were not used for the purposes of trade, confirmed the charge, and the appellants demanded a case for the opinion of the judges. AT a meeting of the commissioners, acting in the execution of the Assessed Tax Acts, in and for the said division, held at the George Inn, in Frome, on the 27th August 1823; Mr. James Loxton, of Rodden, being charged by the assessors the duty on windows and inhabited houses under schedules (A.) and (B.) of the act 48 G. 3. c. 55, appealed against the assessment.

It appeared on the appeal, that the premises so charged were a toll-house adjoining a turnpike gate erected on the Frome turnpike roads, and that the same belonged to the trustees of that turnpike, and was inhabited by Mr. Loxton for the purpose of collecting the tolls due on such roads, which tolls were rented by Mr. Loxton.

The appellant contended that he was entitled to exemption from the duties under the act 3 G. 4. c. 126. s. 51, which enacts, that no tolls to be taken at any gate erected or to be erected by the trustees, nor tollhouse erected or to be erected for the purpose of collecting the same, nor any person in respect of such tolls or toll-house, shall be rated or assessed towards the payment of any poor's rates or any other public or parochial levy whatsoever.

The commissioners being of opinion, that the party was exempt from these duties under the act last mentioned, allowed his appeal and relieved him accordingly.

But the surveyor of the district contended in support of the assessment, that as the act first above referred to (48 G. 3 c. 55,) was not recited in the act under which the appellant claimed his exemption, and as that part of it which imposes these duties is not therein specifically declared to be repealed, that Mr. Loxton is liable to such assessment, and therefore demanded a case for the opinion of the judges. AT a meeting of the commissioners, held at the Fighting Cocks Inn, Moseley, on the 11th day of February 1823, for the purpose of hearing appeals to the duties of Assessed Taxes; William Mewis, of Moseley Yield, Kingsnorton, in the said division, grocer, appealed to us whose names are hereunto set, commissioners (amongst others) acting in the execution of the several acts of Parliament relating to the duties of Assessed Taxes in the said division, against a certain charge made upon him for the year ending the 5th of April 1823, by James Cresswell, the surveyor of the said division, for the sum of 3*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* being the inhabited house duty on 30 l. rent for his house, imposed by the act of 48 G. 3. c. 55. sch. (B.)

On hearing the said William Mewis on oath on his said appeal, we, the said commissioners, discharged the said charge, being of opinion that as the house was occupied by the appellant with 100 acres of land as a tenant at rack-rent, it should be exempt from duty as a farmhouse; but the said surveyor apprehending our determination to be contrary to the intent and meaning of the said act of 48 G. 3. c. 55. sch. (B.) and the rules there set forth for charging the duty on inhabited houses, and case 2, of exemptions from inhabited house duty, inasmuch as he conceived the appellant did not occupy the house in question merely as a farmhouse, upon which farm he solely earned his livelihood, but that the said house was occupied by the appellant with as much advantage to his trade as his farm, and that carriages and horses being kept at the said farmhouse, by which in some measure his trade was carried on, declared himself dissatisfied with our determination, and requested us to state the case specially for the opinion of one or more of the judges of the courts of King's Bench or Common Pleas, or barons of the Exchequer.

We, the said commissioners, accordingly state the case as follows:

The appellant is a grocer at Birmingham, but occupied at Moseley Yield, in the said parish of Kingsnorton, which is about three miles distant from Birmingham, a house, garden, coachhouse, stables, &c. with about 100 acres of land as a tenant, at the annual rent of 206*l.* at which house he and his family resided, and kept his establishment there part of the year ending 5th April 1823. The appellant regularly went in his two-wheel carriage, or otherwise, from his said house at Moseley to attend at his shop in Birmingham daily, and from thence back to Moseley in the evening*. But he having given up his farmhouse, with the farm, at Ladyday last, and sold his carriages and horses, excepting his gig and gig horse, without providing himself with others, confirms us in the opinion we gave on the day of appeal, that they were not beneficial to him in carrying on his trade of grocer in Birmingham.

AT a meeting of the commissioners for putting into execution the acts of Parliament relating to the duties of Assessed Taxes for the said county, held at the Crown Inn, Oakham, on Saturday the 25th day of January 1823, for the purpose of hearing and determining appeals against the charges made under the said acts by Mr. Robert Thompson, surveyor of taxes for the county aforesaid; Thomas Whichcote, esq. of Glaston, in the said county, appealed against a further charge of three gamekeepers certificates, letter (B.) being from one to four certificates of that denomination. The surveyor made this charge under act 52 G. 3. c. 93. sch. (L.) The circumstances of the case, as they appeared to us on the said appeal, are as follow :—William Harrison, an assessed servant of Mr. Whichcote, has four distinct deputations from three different lords of manors, and from one lady, authorizing him to kill as well as to preserve game; namely, one from his grace the Duke of Rutland, for the manor of Bisbrooke; another from Lady Frances Morgan, for the manor of Thorpe-by-Water; a third from the honourable George Watson, for the manor of Glaston; and a fourth from Colonel Monckton, for the manor of Seaton. All these manors lie in the county of Rutland. On the 18th April 1822, Mr. Whichcote obtained one game receipt, letter (B.) from the collector of the said parish of Glaston, in which these four manors were inserted, and afterwards our clerk granted a certificate in exchange for this receipt, containing the names of these four manors, precisely as they were in the collector's receipt. By virtue of these deputations, and of this game certificate, Mr. Whichcote's servant killed game on the said manors, during the year ending 5th April 1823. The ground of Mr. Whichcote's appeal was, that having obtained such one game certificate (B.) at 1*l.* 5*s.* it was quite sufficient for this one gamekeeper. The surveyor, on the contrary, contended, that having obtained one certificate, Mr. Whichcote ought also to have taken out three more to authorize his servant to kill game on all these four manors, deputed as his servant was by four different persons, not one of whom had obtained a certificate in respect of this gamekeeper; and this opinion he grounded on the seventh rule of schedule (L.) of the said act.

We, the said commissioners, on hearing the circumstances of the case, relieved Mr. Whichcote from the further charge; but the surveyor being dissatisfied with our determination, requested a special case for the opinion of the judges, which we have granted accordingly.

AT a meeting of the commissioners for putting into execution the act of Parliament relating to the duties of Assessed Taxes for the said county, held at the Crown Inn, Oakham, on Saturday the 25th day of January 1823, for the purpose of hearing and determining appeals against the charges made under the said act by Mr. Robert Thompson, surveyor of taxes for the county aforesaid; General Grosvenor, of Stretton, in the said county, appealed against a further charge of one gamekeeper's certificate, letter (B.) being from one to two certificates of that denomination. The surveyor made this charge under Act 52 G. 3. c. 93. schedule (L.) p. 385. The circumstances of the case, as they appeared to us on the said appeal, are as follows: Thomas Perkins, an assessed servant of General Grosvenor, and residing at Stretton aforesaid, has two distinct deputations from two different lords of manors, authorizing him to kill as well as to preserve game; namely, one from Sir Gilbert Heathcote, bart. for the manor of Stretton aforesaid, the other from Robert Heathcote, esq. for the manor of Lobthorpe, in the county of Lincoln: on the 18th of September 1822, General Grosvenor obtained one game receipt, letter (B.) from the collector of the said parish of Stretton, in which these two manors were inserted; and afterwards our clerk granted a certificate in exchange for this receipt, containing the names of these two manors precisely as they were in the collector's receipt. By virtue of these two deputations and of this one game certificate, General Grosvenor's servant killed game on the said manors during the year ending 5th April 1823.

The ground of General Grosvenor's appeal was, that having obtained such one game certificate (B.) at 1*l.* 5*s.* it was quite sufficient for this one gamekeeper. The surveyor, on the other hand, contended that having obtained one certificate, General Grosvenor ought also to have taken out another to authorize his servant to kill game on both these manors, situate as they are in different counties, and deputed as the servant was by two different persons, neither of whom had obtained a certificate in respect of this gamekeeper; and this opinion he grounded on the 7th rule of schedule (L.) of the said act.

We, the said commissioners, on hearing the circumstances of the case, relieved General Grosvenor from the further charge; but the surveyor being dissatisfied with our determination, requested a special case for the opinion of His Majesty's judges, which we have granted accordingly. In the year 1821, ending the 5th April 1822, the appellant was charged for one stage coach at the rate of 10*l.* 10*s* duty, against which assessment he appealed to the commissioners at a meeting held on the 5th February 1822, when he stated that the coach for which he is charged is one of the mail coaches which run between York and South Shields; and that the said mail coaches, used between the said places, are entered and paid for at York by Messrs. Cattle and Barber; and by a letter produced to the commissioners by the assessor of the township of Shotton, from Mr. Usher, a coachmaker in Newcastle-upon-Tyne, it appeared there were three coaches employed between York and South Shields, one going, one coming, and the third resting. At this meeting the case was adjourned, in order to ascertain the number of coaches entered and paid for at York. And it now appearing, that two mail coaches are entered and paid for at York, the appellant, Mr. Pape, contends that he is not liable to the duty for the coach for which he is assessed for the year 1821, as the duty is paid by Messrs. Cattle and Barber, his partners at York, for two mail coaches, which he conceives are all he and his partners are liable to pay for, which coaches are supplied by the contractor for mail coaches from the depôt kept at York, one of the coaches running up and the other down; and that for the third coach he contends they are not liable to pay for, on the ground that a third is only used in case one of the coaches usually running requires repairing, and that he and his partners have no command over the coaches, they being selected by the contractor or the guard of the mail.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, acting for the division of the town and county of Southampton, on the 17th day of July 1823, for the purpose of hearing an appeal against a charge for a supplementary assessment; Mr. William Rogers, of the tithing of Portswood, appealed against a charge of 3*l.* 15*s.* being the duty from a taxed cart to a two-wheel carriage.

The appellant is of opinion, that his cart is no other than a taxed cart, it having wood springs, &c. and being built according to the act prescribed for taxed carts.

The cart was produced, and the commissioners were of opinion that it was built and constructed agreeably to the provisions of the act, and dismissed the charge; but the surveyor being dissatisfied with their determination (the said cart having a lining round the top rail and down the front of the cart, and having brass buttons and other ornaments, and also a flounce made of cloth attached to the cushion, which he the said surveyor is of opinion is contrary to the act of 52 G. 3. c. 93, prescribed p. 360. for taxed carts) has requested this case for the opinion of the judges.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes, held at the Crown Inn, in Knaresborough, on Wednesday the 24th day of January 1823, to hear and determine appeals against increased charges; Messrs. John Clemishaw & Sons, and Mr. William Hind, of Wetherby, each appealed (being licensed postmasters, and keeping several postchaises and a considerable number of posthorses) against the charge of 21*s.* each, for four draught horses charged to each of them, and stated the following case:

That they are each innkeepers and farmers, occupying along with their inns under the same landlord considerable farms, of the rental of upwards of 200*l.* per annum.

For the cultivation of these farms the appellants keep four husbandry horses each; but admit, that on a pressing emergency for posting, such farm horses have been brought from the farm and used as posthorses, when the posthorse duty of 1½*d.* per mile for such journeys as they performed were regularly paid.

The commissioners present on hearing the appeal, were of opinion, that as the duty chargeable in respect of husbandry horses, by the statute of 1 & 2 G. 4. p. 528. c. 110, is altogether repealed, and that as the duty on draught horses is not chargeable in respect of horses solely used for posting, that the appellants were not chargeable to the duty of 21*s.* each, and discharged the appeal.

Mr. Stead, the surveyor, expressed himself dissatisfied with this determination; and contended that the exemptions for posthorses, in case 2d of the 52 G. 3. p. 373. 377. c. 93, sch. (F.) extended to horses kept and used for the purpose of running post only, and and not used on any other occasion, or for any other purpose of labour whatever; and that the exemption in the first schedule of the 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 110, extend only to horses kept and used solely for the purpose of husbandry; and that husbandry horses used by innkeepers on any occasion, or for any other purpose of labour, were liable to the duty of 21 s. each, and requested a case for the opinion of the judges, which we sign accordingly. AT a meeting of appeal against the first assessments for the city of Hereford, held this 12th day of September 1823, at the Council Room in the said city; James Sessions, victualler, of Wyebridge Ward, appealed against a charge made on him for 10 windows, he claiming an allowance for 2 of such windows being in the front of his dwelling-house and in his parlour, which parlour is used as his dining-room, he being in the habit of exposing his liquor casks in such windows for the sale of his spirituous liquors; he likewise produced a London paper, wherein such allowance had been granted to the victuallers by the commissioners of Clerkenwell, Middlesex: upon reading which, and looking into the act of G. 4. c. 11, 23d line (beginning with "any person or persons in trade, who shall expose to sale or sell any goods, wares or merchandizes, in any shop or warehouse, shall be exempt for not more than three such lights in front, being part of their dwelling-houses," the commissioners confirmed his appeal; unto which Mr. Downes the surveyor objected, saying, that he did not construe the act in the same way; and that the legislature could never mean that a victualler's house could be deemed a shop or warehouse, and as his opinion was diametrically opposite, he demanded a case for the opinion of the judges.

We, therefore, being two of the commissioners acting for the city of Hereford, request that the above stated case be laid before His Majesty's judges as soon as possibly convenient, in order that the same may be determined.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of the Assessed Taxes, acting in and for the city of York and county of the same city, held at the Guildhall in the said city, on the 28th day of August 1823; Mr. George Scaife, of York, innkeeper, and several other persons carrying on that business, or the business of ale drapers and victuallers in the city of York, appealed against a charge made upon them for the front windows on the basement story in their respective dwelling-houses, on the ground that they ought to be considered as shops or warehouses, and as such exempt from duty. They were relieved by us, the undersigned commissioners, subject to a case required by the surveyor for the crown for the opinion of the judges thereupon.

By an act of parliament passed in the fourth year of the reign of His present Majesty, c. 11, after therein reciting the 48th of the late king, c. 55, granting the duties on houses, windows and lights, as therein set forth, and some other subsequent statutes, and also that it was expedient finally to determine certain of the said duties on windows or lights, then payable in respect of shops or warehouses, being parts of dwelling-houses occupied by persons in trade; It is enacted, that from and after the 5th day of April

April 1823, in that part of Great Britain called England and Wales, and the town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, and from and after the 24th day of May 1823, in that part of Great Britain called Scotland, for and in respect of and upon all assessments to be made for any year commencing from the respective days and year last aforesaid, so much of the said duties on windows or lights in shops or warehouses, being parts of dwelling-houses chargeable by the said first mentioned act, in respect of any number not exceeding three such windows or lights in any shop or warehouse in the front or fronts, and on the ground or basement story of every dwelling-house, occupied by any person or persons in trade who shall expose to sale or sell any goods, wares or merchandizes in any such shop or warehouse, shall severally cease and determine.

Upon considering the above enactment, we were of opinion that the relief intended to be afforded, and which the legislature had contemplated, was meant to extend to all persons in trade occupying a dwelling-house, in the front shops or ware-rooms of which, and on the ground story they carried on their business, and there sold or exposed to sale the articles of their trade; the words of the act not requiring an exposing to sale and selling of goods, &c. but using the words expose to sale or sell, &c. either fact being sufficient to authorize the allowance of the claim of exemption from the duty in respect of such shop or wareroom.

Upon further consideration of the appellants claim, we were of opinion that an alehouse keeper is a person in trade; that the articles he vends are goods and merchandizes sufficiently within the meaning of the act; that the front rooms (the lights of which are claimed to be exempted from duty) are free and open to the public as much as any other shop or warehouse in which the customer is furnished with the article he wishes to purchase. The innkeeper sells wine, spirits, tobacco, and other articles, not only to those who consume them in the house, but also to such customers as wish them to be sent to their own dwellings; and lastly, that many of these appellants have several of these articles exposed in the windows of the said front rooms, and open to public view. Under these circumstances, we were of opinion they were entitled to relief, and we determined upon allowing the claim of the appellants; but the surveyor for the crown conceiving our determination to be wrong, on the ground that these are not such shops or warehouses, nor the windows or lights thereof such as were intended to be exempted by the act of Parliament, but merely entertaining rooms, we have stated the above case for the opinion of some of His Majesty's justices of the courts of Westminster thereon. “And whereas it is expedient finally to determine certain of the said duties on ^{4 G. 4. c. 11.} windows or lights, now payable in respect of shops or warehouses, being parts of ^{s. 1.} dwelling-houses occupied by persons in trade, and the whole of the said other duties hereinbefore described; be it therefore enacted, by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, “and commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the “same, that from and after the 5th day of April 1823, in that part of Great Britain “called England, Wales and the town of Berwick upon Tweed, and from and after “the 24th day of May 1823, in that part of Great Britain called Scotland, for or in "respect of and upon all assessments to be made for any year, commencing from the respective days and year last aforesaid, so much of the said duties on windows or lights in shops or warehouses, being parts of dwelling-houses chargeable by the said first-mentioned act, in respect of any number not exceeding three such windows or lights in any shop or warehouse, in the front or fronts, and on the ground or basement story, of every dwelling-house occupied by any person or persons in trade, who shall expose to sale or sell any goods, wares or merchandizes in any such shop or warehouse, and on servants in husbandry or trade, and on taxed carts, and on horses, mares, geldings or mules hereinbefore respectively and particularly enumerated and described, and all assessments thereon, for and in respect of any year commencing from and after the respective days aforesaid, shall severally cease and determine."

The surveyor of the district contended, that if it had been the intention of the legislature to exempt windows in the public rooms of inns and victualling houses, those houses would have been distinctly named in the 4 G. 4. c. 11, as they are in the 48 G. 3. c. 55. schedule (A.) rule 12, for the purpose of exempting windows of the dimensions therein mentioned from being charged as two windows; viz.

48 G. 3. c. 55.

rule 12.

"Except also the windows or lights in such parts of dwelling-houses as are used for shops, workshops and warehouses:" and,

"Except the windows or lights in the public rooms of any house licensed to sell wine, ale and other liquors by retail, which shall be used for the entertainment of guests."

But the commissioners being of opinion that the exemption claimed by the appellant came within the meaning of the act of 4 G. 4. c. 11. allowed the appeal.

The surveyor, not being satisfied with such determination, has requested us to state and sign this case for the opinion of His Majesty's justices of the courts of King's Bench or Common Pleas, or the barons of the Exchequer at Westminster, which we have done accordingly. 27.—County of Carnarvon to wit.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Land and Assessed Taxes, held at Carnarvon, in the division of Carnarvon, and in the county aforesaid, the 5th day of Dec. 1823, for hearing appeals against the assessments on houses, windows, &c.; John Jones, of Carnarvon, in the said county, wine and spirit merchant, appealed against a charge made by the surveyor of taxes for the county aforesaid after the appeal day, for the full duty on his shop windows, between the 5th day of April 1823 and the 6th day of April 1824; the said John Jones, in consequence of the Board's directions, dated the 6th day of November last, appealed against the charge of full duty on his composition contract on his windows, he alleging that 3 windows in his shop ought to be deducted out of his composition; the said John Jones is not a victualler, but what the excise calls a beer retailer; the said John Jones sells wine and spirits by retail in his shop only, and not elsewhere; his shop is on the ground floor, and on the basement story of his dwelling-house; has a counter, under which he keeps his wine and spirits, and of course sells them thereon. There are also in his shop 4 windows, three of which he claims exemption under his composition contract, according to the act of Parliament in that case made and provided.

We, the commissioners present at the said meeting, are of opinion that the John Jones is entitled to exemption from tax upon the windows in question, because they are the windows of a shop necessary for the carrying on of his trade, and exclusively for that purpose; and because his goods are therein bonâ fide exposed to sale, which circumstances, we apprehend, essentially distinguishes his case from that of victuallers, whose business does not require a shop properly so called, but may be and generally is carried on in different rooms of the dwelling-house.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes for the city of London, held 11th December 1823; Messrs. Allnutt & Harrison, of Mark-lane, in the ward of Tower, appealed to have the window and inhabited house duties, assessed for a house occupied by them for the purposes of business, discharged under the provisions of the act of the 57 G. 3. c. 25, namely, as a house used wholly for the purposes of trade, or as a shop, warehouse, or counting-house. 57 G. 3. c. 25.

The appellants stated on oath that they carry on the trade of wine merchants, and that they occupy the basement floor of the house aforesaid as vaults and cellars, and the ground floor as counting-houses in their own trade; that they let out the upper part of the house to several tenants, the first floor being let to and occupied by a solicitor as offices, and the remainder of the house is let to and occupied by merchants as counting-houses; that no person doth inhabit or dwell therein, except in the day-time, and then only for the purpose of their trade or calling.

The surveyor stated to the commissioners that he had surveyed and inspected the premises, and had, under the provisions of the second clause of the said act, certified ground of objection to the discharge of the assessment, considering that as part of the house is occupied by a solicitor in his profession, the case did not come within the meaning of the act.

The commissioners having considered the circumstances, overruled the objection by the surveyor, and discharged the assessment, whereupon the surveyor has demanded a statement of the facts for the opinion of His Majesty's judges.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes for the city of London, held 16th September 1823; John Lodge, of Cloth Fair, in the ward of Farringdon, appealed to have three windows discharged from the assessment on his house, under the provisions of the act 4 G. 4. c. 11. s. 1.

The appellant stated on oath that he is a publican, and occupies a public-house situate as above; that he has 12 windows in his house altogether, of which number three are in his tap-room, or place of resort for his customers; that in this room he exposes to sale and sells goods equally with any other retail dealer; he sells beer, spirits, wine and victuals, which are as much goods, wares or merchandize, as cheese and butter sold by a cheesemonger; and he contends that the technical description of his place of sale, differing in words but not in meaning with the description in the act of Parliament, ought not to deprive him of a legislative benefit clearly intended to relieve retail traders, more especially as there is not any clause to take public houses out of the exemption. 4 G. 4. c. 11.

The commissioners directed the words of the Act to be read:—"So much of the said duties on windows or lights in shops or warehouses, being parts of dwelling-houses chargeable by the said first mentioned act, in respect of any number not exceeding

"exceeding three such windows or lights in any shop or warehouse, in the front or fronts, and on the ground or basement story of every dwelling-house, occupied by any person or persons in trade, who shall expose to sale or sell any goods, wares or merchandizes in any such shop or warehouse, shall severally cease and determine."

And it appearing that there was not any clause in the Act which took public-houses out of the exemption just read, the commissioners discharged the assessment for three windows.

The surveyor then stated that he had directions to request a statement of the facts of the appeal for the opinion of the judges, which is hereby stated accordingly.

AT a meeting of the commissioners of Assessed Taxes for the city of London, held 1st July 1823; Charles Hibbert, of Jewry-street, ward of Aldgate, appealed on behalf of himself and partner against an increased charge made by the surveyor for the duties granted by the act 52 G. 3. c. 93, schedule (C.) N^o 3, namely, for 4 male persons employed as warehousemen, porters or cellarmen, in his shop or warehouse, in addition to two returned.

The appellant stated on oath, that he carries on the business of wine and porter merchant, and that he employs in his trade from 8 to 10 men, whom he pays by the week as labourers; that their occupation is to bottle wine and porter, pack it, stow it away, deliver it out to their customers, and generally to perform the work required to be done in the appellant's warehouses and cellars; that of this number he considers two men superior to the others, and who overlook the work, and these men he has returned as warehousemen, but that the other men are merely labourers, and do not come within the meaning of the act.

The commissioners, by a majority of votes, relieved the appellant from the increased charge of the surveyor, who being dissatisfied with such determination, has demanded a statement of the facts for the opinion of the judges.

AT an adjourned meeting of the commissioners, acting under the Assessed Tax Acts of Parliament, in and for the town and borough of Southwark, in the county of Surrey, held 2d Sept. 1823; Richard Turner, of the London Road, in the said district, blacking manufacturer, appealed against a surcharge made on him by Mr. John Davison the surveyor, for 1 four-wheel carriage, 12*l.* and from 1 to 5 porters or warehousemen.

The appellant being sworn, states, that the carriage for which he is surcharged is only a waggon, and that it has his name and place of abode, and the words "Common stage waggon" written thereon, and that it is solely used for the purpose of his travelling through England and Scotland, to take orders in his business as a blacking manufacturer.

The carriage being produced, it appeared upon inspection, that the appellant's name and place of abode, &c. are written under the foot board, and cannot be seen unless the person inspecting it goes under the carriage, or stoops his head almost to the ground. The carriage is stuffed and lined round the back and sides, and is calculated culated to hold two persons only; it has a leather dashing-board and a leather apron; the wheels are of the ordinary size of a four-wheeled carriage, and it cost 60 guineas.

The appellant, on his appeal against the surcharge from 1 to 5 porters or warehousemen, admits that he has 6 men and boys in his employ, whose business it is to fill his blacking bottles, and when done to label them and pack them up to be sent off into the country; he did not claim the exemption under the 59 G. 3. c. 118, but he contends that weekly servants so employed are not liable to be charged as porters or warehousemen.

The commissioners having taken the whole of the appellant's case into consideration, as well as the observations of the surveyor in support of his surcharge, confirmed both the charges; but the appellant being dissatisfied with their determination, demanded a case to be specially stated for the opinion of one of His Majesty's justices of the court of King's Bench or Common Pleas, or one of the barons of the court of Exchequer, which is hereby stated accordingly.

Mary Hayes, late of Aislaby, deceased, was charged with the Assessed Taxes for the year ending April 1823, for 1 four-wheeled carriage, 3 male servants, &c. On the 25th day of the said month of April 1823, being nineteen days after the commencement of the said year, she died, having at the time of her death made no return of the servants, &c. to be charged, pursuant to the 43 G. 3. c. 161. s. 28. p. 98.

“Mary Hayes, deceased, 1 four-wheel carriage, 3 male servants, &c.” and which charge is the subject of the present appeal.

On the day after the funeral of the said Mary Hayes, the servants were told that they might either remain a month in the house, or leave immediately, whichever they preferred.

They remained in the house until the 28th day of May, when the sale of furniture and effects took place, and then left, receiving their wages up to the said 28th day of May. AT a meeting of the commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the acts granting the duties of Assessed Taxes for the county of Dorset, acting for the division of Dorchester, held in the County Hall, on Tuesday the 24th day of September 1822, for hearing appeals against the first assessment of the said duties for the year ending the 5th April 1823 ;—

Present :—Thomas Morton Colson, Wm. Rush Hallett Churchill, clerks ; and Thomas Gould Read, esq.

William Talbot, of Broadmain, yeoman, appealed against an assessment for one riding horse under schedule (E.) N^o 1, of the acts 48 G. 3. c. 55, and 52 G. 3. c. 93.

The appellant occupies a farm as tenant at rack-rent, the rent of which is less than 200*l.* a year, and makes a livelihood solely thereby. He keeps four horses, three of which are used solely for the purpose of husbandry on the said farm, and the other is occasionally used in the same way, but principally for riding. The appellant, however, stated that the occasions on which the horse is so used in riding are in going to fairs and markets, and other places in the course of his business generally as a farmer, which he submitted are purposes of husbandry, and that his case therefore came within the true intent and meaning of the exemption granted by the act 3 G. 4. c. 50. s. 4, “for one horse, mare or gelding, bonâ fide kept and “usually employed for the purpose of husbandry on his said estate or farm, “although used occasionally for the purpose of riding.” But Mr. Wm. Kite, the surveyor, objected that the appellant’s case did not come within the meaning of the act ; and contended that it was necessary, in order to entitle the party to the exemption which he claimed, that the horse should have been usually employed for the purpose of draught in husbandry on the estate or farm ; whereas it was not so employed, having been principally used for riding, which in his opinion renders the appellant liable to the assessment of 2*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* notwithstanding such riding may have been in furtherance of his business as a farmer, no prior act having exempted horses so rode, and the present act having allowed the horse to be used occasionally only for riding, without providing (as he apprehends it would have done if it had been intended to exempt a horse rode like the appellant’s) that all such riding as should be for agricultural purposes should be allowed over and above the occasional riding thereby exempted.

We, the majority of the commissioners present, considering that the manner in which the appellant used the horse was an employment for the purposes of husbandry, by which he solely made a livelihood, and that the riding of the horse was for agricultural business, (which we conceived it was the intention of the legislature to exempt in addition to the occasional riding mentioned in the act,) were of opinion that the appellant was entitled to the exemption granted by the 4th section of the said act 3 G. 4. c. 50, and accordingly directed the assessment to be discharged ; but the surveyor being dissatisfied with the determination requested a case for the opinion of the judges, which we have therefore stated as above.

(Further Statement.)

WE further certify, That it appears to us the horse is used in draught for the purposes of husbandry, during the seed season, haymaking and harvest, which take up about six weeks in the year, and during which the business of the farm could not be done without the assistance of the horse in question. ASSESSED TAXES, SCOTLAND.

A RETURN of Copies of Cases stated and signed by Commissioners in Scotland, acting in the execution of the Acts of Parliament imposing and regulating the Duties of Assessed Taxes; and Opinion and Determination of the Barons of the Court of Exchequer in Scotland thereon.

County of LANARK.

At a Meeting of the Commissioners for carrying into execution, within the County aforesaid, the Acts imposing and regulating the Duties of Assessed Taxes, held at Glasgow, the 16th day of June 1823:—

John Smith, horse dealer, Wallace-street, Glasgow, appealed against a surcharge of 5*l.* 15*s.* in respect of a horse used by him for riding and drawing carriages, from Whitsunday 1821 to Whitsunday 1822. And upon hearing the appellant and inspector of taxes, the facts of the case appeared to us the Commissioners present, to be as follows:—

John Smith carries on the business or trade of a dealer in horses, and is charged for the duty on the licence imposed upon persons exercising that trade. Smith, in the course of his trade, which is chiefly, if not altogether, confined to the purchase and sale of horses for labour, keeps no horse which can properly be termed a saddle or riding horse, but in going from market to market, he uses one of his horses kept for sale for riding, upon these occasions; and having refused to return a saddle horse in his schedule of requisition under the said Acts, the inspector aforesaid of taxes, surcharged him in double duty.

Upon considering the case, we the Commissioners foresaid, were of opinion, that the appellant was not liable to be assessed for said horse, and we relieved him both of the surcharge and single duty accordingly. But the inspector of taxes being present, and having declared himself dissatisfied with our determination in so far as regards the single duty, craved that we would state and subscribe a case for the determination of the Right honourable the Barons of Exchequer, which we have hereby done accordingly. Given under our hands, place and date foresaid.

At a Meeting of the Commissioners under the Assessed Tax Acts, acting for the said County, held within the Burgh of Irvine, for the discussion of Appeals, the 9th day of April 1823:—present, John Campbell, Esq. c. s.
Robert Fullerton, Esq. c. s.

William Carleton, in Snodgrass, appealed against a charge of £.2. 17. 6. being the duty on one saddle or riding horse, and 8s. as the duty on a dog, assessed for the period whereof the duties became due and payable, 25 March 1823.

Upon hearing the appellant and the charging officer, the facts of the case appeared to us the Commissioners present, to be as follow:—

William Carleton occupies a small farm or piece of ground, for labouring which, the horse in question is employed. He is at the same time employed occasionally as a groom or keeper of race horses for such gentlemen as may choose to intrust their horses to his charge, and frequently rides the said horse while thus employed.

With respect to the duty on the dog, it appeared that an inmate in Carleton's family, during a part of the period under charge, kept a dog, and that after the said inmate left his residence there, the dog returned, and occasionally received food in the house of the said William Carleton.

Under these circumstances, we the said Commissioners vacated the charge against the appellant for the duty on the horse, to the extent of £.1. 16. 6. and relieved him of the duty on the dog. But the charging officer having expressed himself dissatisfied with this determination, and requested that we would state and sign the case specially for the consideration of the Barons of Exchequer in Scotland, the same is hereby stated and signed accordingly.

Eastern District of the County of STIRLING.

At a Meeting of the Commissioners of Supply for the said District, for hearing and determining Appeals from charges made under the Assessed Tax Acts, held at Falkirk upon the 26th day of March 1823.

William Monteath, stabler at Lock, 16 John Micklejohn, tenant in Drum, James Forsyth, labourer at North Broomage, Henry Malcolm in Larbert, and John Thomson, at Gateside, appealed against charges of £.3. 13. 6. each, as the duty on game certificates for the year 1821, upon the grounds stated in their appeals, and others urged at the bar, to which the surveyor apponed the written answers, made in the appeal of William Monteath, wherein he craved, that if the Commissioners were of opinion, that the charges ought to be vacated, that they would state and submit a case for the opinion of the Barons of Exchequer; and the Commissioners having considered the appeals with answers thereto, and craving by the surveyor, they sustain the appeals and vacate the charges made, in respect that the appellants have not been convicted in penalties, and because the Commissioners cannot find that, that, by the statute, authority is given to make an assessment upon any person, except on such conviction, or after the person so to be assessed shall have paid the duty to the collector, and have obtained from the clerk, and failing him, from the surveyor, the proper certificate, entitling him to kill game, which judgment the Commissioners consider themselves warranted to pronounce, in consequence of the opinion of the Right honourable the Barons of Exchequer, given in the appeals of Thomas Laurie and Walter Keir to the Commissioners of the Western District of the County, of date the 16th July 1821, and the whole proceedings are now certified by us as required.

County of FORFAR.

At a Meeting of the Commissioners for carrying into execution the Acts imposing and regulating the Duties of Assessed Taxes within the Forfar District of the County of Forfar, held at Forfar the 29th day of July 1823:—

William Watson, captain in the Angus-shire troop of yeomanry cavalry, and other members of the said troop, are respectively assessed and charged in the sum of £2. 17. 6. in respect of one riding horse, and 10s. as the duty on an occasional groom for the year ending 24th May 1822, which duties became due and payable upon the 25th day of March 1823, against which charge he appealed. And on hearing the said William Watson in the name of himself, and the other members of the said troop in the said appeal, the case appeared to us the Commissioners present, to be as follows; by the Statute 44 Geo. 3, c. 54. § 5. it is enacted, “That no person shall be deemed, construed or taken to be an effective member of any corps of yeomanry or volunteers, or shall be returned or certified as such by any commanding officer, under this Act, or be entitled to any exemption under any of the provisions thereof, who shall not have duly attended, properly armed and accoutred, and mounted, if cavalry, at the muster or exercise of the corps to which he belongs, if cavalry, four days, if infantry, eight days at the least, in the course of the four months preceding each return made under this Act, unless he shall have been absent with leave under the provisions of this Act, or shall have been prevented by actual sickness, such sickness to be certified by some medical practitioner, or otherwise proved to the commanding officer of the corps, to his satisfaction; nor unless such person shall be returned or certified by his commanding officer, in manner directed by this Act, as an effective member, and as having taken the oath of allegiance.” And by the 6th section of the said Statute, it is further enacted, “That in every case in which any corps of yeomanry or volunteers heretofore accepted, or hereafter to be accepted, requiring any arms or accoutrements at the expense of His Majesty, shall not have been supplied with such arms or accoutrements in sufficient time to have enabled the members thereof, or of any part or proportion of any such corps to have attended, properly armed and accoutred, at muster and service, according to the provisions of this Act; every member of such corps who shall have duly attended muster and exercise, although without arms or accoutrements, shall nevertheless be deemed and taken to be an effective member, in like manner as if he had so attended properly armed and accoutred.”

In consequence of the non-fulfilment of a contract for sadlery and harness, Captain Watson and the other members of the said troop were prevented from attending at drill during the number of days of muster and exercise required by the Act above-mentioned, to entitle them to exemption from the duties charged, but the drills were made up in the autumn of 1822 (being beyond the period to which the charge applies); in consideration, however, of the circumstances above detailed, and being of opinion that Captain Watson and the other members of the foresaid troop, had no wish to avoid any duty to which they were amenable as members of the yeomanry cavalry, we, the Commissioners present, gave relief to the members so charged with the duties above-mentioned accordingly; but the surveyor of taxes having declared himself dissatisfied with our judgment, required us to state the case specially to one or more of the Barons of the Court of Exchequer in Scotland, for his or their opinion thereon, which we have here stated accordingly. Given under our hands the day and year above written.

County of KINCARDINE.

At a Meeting of the Commissioners for carrying into execution the Acts imposing and regulating the Duties of Assessed Taxes within the County of Kincardine, held at Stonehaven, the 29th April 1823:—
Robert William Duff, Esq. of Fetteresso Preses:—

Alexander Thomson, of Banchory, having been assessed and charged with the sum of £.2. sterling, as the duty on a steward or factor employed by him on his estates in this and the adjoining county of Aberdeen, within the year ended on the 24th May 1822, and payable upon the 25th March 1823, he, the said Alexander Thomson, appealed against the said charge; and we, the Commissioners present, having heard the appeal, the case appeared to us to be as follows:—

By the Statute 52 Geo. 3, c. 93, Schedule C, N° 3, it is enacted, that “for every male person employed in the capacity of, or as a steward, bailiff, overseer or manager, or clerk under a steward, bailiff, overseer or manager, there shall be charged the sum of two pounds sterling.” And by the rule for charging the duties in the said Schedule, “the said duties are to be paid by the employer or employers of such male persons respectively.”

The appellant, within the year in question, did employ a factor or steward upon his estates, for collecting his rents and transacting business between him and his tenants; but the person so employed acted in the same capacity for several other employers, he being a licensed law agent or attorney, and paying as such, an annual duty to government.

The objections to the charge are;—That the duty in question does not apply to the employer of such a person as that now mentioned; that the duty is imposed for every person employed as a steward, &c. but that only one duty is imposed for every person, and not different duties, and that, therefore, different employers cannot under the Act be charged for the same person; that in the cases of gardeners and waiters, mentioned in the same Schedule of the Act, a separate enactment is made for authorizing a charge for persons occasionally employed in those capacities; but there is no clause authorizing a charge for occasional stewards or factors; that the person employed by the appellant is only occasionally employed by him, and that the annual tax paid by him as an attorney or law agent, comes in place of any charge against his individual employers.

In

In consideration, however, of the express words of the statute, and of the fact of employment within the period assessed for, of a person in the capacity mentioned in the Act, we, the Commissioners present, dismissed the appeal and confirmed the assessment. But the appellant having declared himself dissatisfied with our judgment, required us to state the case specially to one or more of the Barons of the Court of Exchequer in Scotland, for his or their opinion thereon, and we have done so accordingly. Given under our authority, and subscribed by our preses, place, day and year above-mentioned.

County of ARGYLL.

At Campbeltown, the seventh day of April eighteen hundred and twenty-three, before a Meeting of the Commissioners for the affairs of Taxes for the Third District of Argyllshire:—

Sitting on the petition of appeal presented to them by John Campbell of Stonefield, which petition narrates, that the appellant was charged with £. 2. as duty for a factor on his estate in Dumbartonshire. That when the appellant was, on a former occasion, charged with the above-mentioned duty, he appealed to their honours on the ground that he employed no person liable to it, the rent of that property being collected, and any other business there, being transacted by a law agent, who acted generally as such, and who was employed in the same manner by many other persons; which appeal was sustained. That since the above-mentioned appeal, no change whatever had taken place in the management of the estate in question. The appellant, therefore, trusted, that the same reasons which induced their honours to sustain his former appeal against the same charge, would induce them to sustain the present appeal, and to relieve the appellant of the duty complained of. And the Commissioners having considered the said appeal, and heard the surveyor in answer thereto, they relieved the appellant of the tax of £. 2. complained of, and accordingly pronounced judgment to that effect. But the surveyor having craved this case for appeal, the Commissioners allowed him to make such appeal to the Right honourable the Barons of Exchequer. The present case is therefore humbly submitted.

LEGACY DUTY.

Copy TREASURY MINUTE, dated 27th February 1824;
Concerning ARREARS of Legacy Duty.

27th February 1824.

MY LORDS read the Minute of this Board, of the 30th of January 1810, directing a complete revision of the system of the collection of the Legacy Duties, which had, up to that period, been very inefficiently conducted from the time at which they were first imposed and placed under the management of the Commissioners of Stamps, (viz. 1796).

In pursuance of that Minute, a new mode of collecting these Duties was established, the principal features of which were, the arrangement of communications with the several ecclesiastical courts, with a view to a more correct charge of the Duty, and a more extended promulgation of the provisions and penalties of the law, for the assistance and information of the parties subject to the payment of the tax. The operation of this new measure which was only to be prospective, commenced on the 1st of January 1812, in a department expressly established for that purpose.

The old Legacy department, however, which was subsequently, in the year 1821, consolidated with the new establishment, continued to be employed in the investigation of the accounts of wills and administrations proved and granted prior to that period.

Before that consolidation took place applications had been made, under the former practice, to executors and administrators for the payment of such duties as appeared to be unaccounted for upon the residue of property of Testators under wills proved between 1805 and 1812, including the interest and dividends which had accrued from the period of their death, to the time at which the Duties were applied for and paid; and further progress has since been made in the investigation of those accounts for the recovery of Duties, in the like manner unaccounted for with respect to the period between the years 1796 and 1805.

My Lords, considering that the omission which may now be discovered in the payment of these Duties, may in great part have arisen from the imperfect provisions of the law under which they ought to have been collected; that the hardship of enforcing the payment of them now, after a lapse of several years, would be very great in the case of many of the parties, and particularly of those who, as Executors, may have had no beneficial interest in the residue of the property; that the Legatees themselves are in great part either deceased, or in no condition to answer the demand if made upon them; are, upon the whole, of opinion, that under all these circumstances, it will be just not to call for the payment of the Duties arising under the wills and letters of administration proved and granted prior to the year 1805, in cases where the property shall have already been paid over to the parties entitled thereto; and that upon residuary accounts, rendered under wills and administrations proved and granted subsequently to that period, no account of the interest and dividends accruing previously to the 1st of January 1812, should be required.

Write to the Commissioners of Stamps accordingly.

Return to an Order of the Honourable House of Commons, dated 11th February 1824;—for A RETURN of the Amount of Stamp Duties on Legacies, Probates, Administrations and Testamentary Inventories, for the year ending the 5th January 1824; and of the Amount of Discount allowed by the Stamp Office on Probate and Administration Stamps in each year, for the last three years:—

- (1.)—A Return of the total Amount of Revenue received in Ireland, for Stamp Duties on Legacies, Probates, Administrations and Testamentary Inventories, for the year ending the 5th January 1824:—

1st Note.—The duties on Probates and Administrations being the same, are classed in the warrants and books of the office under one heading, and therefore cannot be separated.

2d Note.—Testamentary Inventories do not apply to Ireland; on reference to the Stamp Acts for Great Britain, it appears that they apply exclusively to Scotland.

- (2.)—A Return of the Amount of the Discount allowed by the Stamp Office in Ireland, on Probate and Administration Stamps and Inventory of Effects Stamps, in each year, for the last three years:

1st Note.—To account for the above small amount of discount on Probate and Administration Stamps, it is necessary to state, that in Ireland discount is only allowed upon Stamps which are under the value of ten pounds; and that the Stamps on Probates and Administrations are almost wholly obtained through the medium of the Dublin and country Stamp distributors.

2d Note.—There is no duty in Ireland on Inventories of Effects.

Returns to Orders of the Honourable House of Commons, dated 26th February 1824 ;—for

(1.)—AN ACCOUNT of the Produce of STAMP DUTIES imposed on Law Proceedings in the several Courts of Justice of Ireland, during each of the Seven Years past; distinguishing them under the several Heads or Classes into which they are divided by the Stamp Act.

THE Warrants and Books of this Office have been heretofore arranged in such a manner as not to distinguish the Stamp Duties on Law proceedings in the several Courts of Justice in Ireland, from the Stamp Duties on other Instruments, and therefore the above Return cannot be made.

(2.)—AN ACCOUNT of the Produce of STAMP DUTIES imposed on the several branches of Conveyances during a similar period.

NO distinct Account has been heretofore kept in this Office of the Stamp Duties on Conveyances, but the same have been mixed up with the Stamp Duties on Deeds and Instruments other than Conveyances, and therefore the above Return cannot be made.
